The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claims 40-54 and 57-60 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. The description of the invention as set forth on page 13, lines 1-6 and 10-13, of exhibit A is not understood. It is unclear how the bolt T-shaped head portion as shown in fig. 2 correspond to the T-shaped head portion as shown in fig. 1 to enable a clear understanding of the sides of the T-shaped head that are wedge shaped. The limitations of claims 47 and 48 are not understood with respect to the originally filed disclosure.

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 41-54 and 57-60 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. It is unclear if the complementary portions, as set forth in claim 42, the complimentary shapes with contact and support surfaces, as set forth in claim 51, the contact surfaces, as set forth in claim 57, are different from the contact surface, as set forth in claim 40 as suggested? The limitation “on furthers from the first half brace”, as set forth in claim 57, is unclear. What are the sizes, as set forth in claim 59. The phrase “the furthest point”, as set forth in claim 59, lacks antecedent basis.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 40-54, and 57-60 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Burton in view of Parma et al. Burton shows the claimed apparatus with the exception of the shape of the T-shaped head. Parma shows a wedge-shape (66) T-shaped head (60), non-cylindrical shaft at 42 and corresponding recess, and further teaches the use of coating as a low friction means (column 6, lines 67,68). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the top and side surfaces of the T-shaped head, the shaft and recess of Burton to comprise a wedge shape and complementary shaped recess and non-cylindrical shaft, as taught by Parma, to enable a secure seating of his T-shaped head in the recess, and to further comprise a coating, as taught by Parma, to facilitate gliding. To make the bolt of a softer material than the brace wherein the bolt would be damaged before the brace, as such would be replaceable, would have been an obvious engineering expediency.

Applicant's arguments filed 12/3/05 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant argues that Parma does not teach a T-shaped head having a wedge shape, but is cylindrical. The examiner disagrees, note fig.13, the portion 66 is comparable to applicant's rounded beveled surfaces, as set forth in claim 44.

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
